TYPES OF PERSONAL DATA PROCESSED

- Inventory data (e.g. names, addresses)
- Contact details (e.g. email address, telephone numbers)

PURPOSE OF PERSONAL DATA PROCESSING

- Answering requests for contact and communication with users.

DEFINING THE LEGAL BASIS FOR PROCESSING PERSONAL DATA

Under the provisions of Article 13 of GDPR, we would like to inform you about the legal basis for the processing of personal data carried out for us. Unless the legal basis for processing is stated in the Privacy Policy, the following provisions shall apply: The legal basis for obtaining consent is Article 6, paragraph 1(a) and Article 7 of GDPR, the legal basis for the processing of personal data in order to comply with and implement the measures taken before the conclusion of the contract and to answer questions is Article 6, paragraph 1(b) of GDPR, the legal basis for the processing of personal data to fulfill our legal obligation is Article 6, paragraph 1(c) of GDPR, and the legal basis for the processing of personal data for the purposes of our legitimate interests is Article 6, paragraph 1(f) of GDPR. If the processing of personal data is necessary to protect the vital interests of the data subject or another natural person, Article 6, paragraph 1(d) of GDPR shall serve as the legal basis for processing.

SAFEGUARDING THE PROCESSING OF PERSONAL DATA

Under the provisions of Article 32 of GDPR and taking into account the state of the technology, the cost of implementation and the nature, scope, context and purposes of processing, as well as the risks of varying likelihood and severity for rights and freedoms of natural persons, we implement appropriate technical and organizational measures to ensure a level of security appropriate to the risk.

These measures particularly include ensuring the confidentiality, integrity and availability of personal data that are subject to inspection of physical access, data entry, transmission, ensuring availability and separate storage. In addition, we have implemented procedures to ensure the protection of the rights of data subjects, data deletion and response to the breach of data protection. We keep the protection of personal data in mind during development, respectively the selection of hardware, software and procedures governed by the principle of data protection by design and by default (Article 25 of GDPR).

To ensure the security and confidentiality of personal data, which is especially important to us, we use technical and organizational measures, especially to protect against unauthorized access to data and their misuse. All measures are regularly evaluated and updated.

COOPERATION WITH PROCESSORS AND THIRD PARTIES

If we share personal data processed by us with other persons and companies (processors or third parties), we transfer it to the third parties or companies, or we provide them access to the data using other means, we do so only on the basis of legal consent (e.g. if the transfer of personal data to third parties such as payment service providers is absolutely necessary for the purpose of contract performance under Article 6, paragraph 1(b) of GDPR), you have agreed to this legal obligation, or we do so based on our legitimate interests (such as using the services of authorized persons, web hosters, etc.).

If we entrust third parties with the processing of personal data on the basis of a “contract for the processing of personal data”, we will comply with the provisions of Article 28 of GDPR.

TRANSFER OF PERSONAL DATA TO THIRD COUNTRIES

If we process personal data in a third country (i.e. in a non-member state of the European Union (EU) or European Economic Area (EEA)), or the data is processed using the services of third parties or the personal data is released, i.e. transferred to third parties, we will do so only if it is necessary for the fulfillment of our (pre)contractual obligations, based on your consent, a legal commitment or our legitimate interests. Subject to legal or contractual consent, we process personal data or have personal data processed in a third country only if they meet the special requirements stipulated by Article 44 et seq. of GDPR. This means that the personal data will be processed on the basis of special safeguards. This guarantee means official recognition that the level of protection of personal data corresponds with standards in the European Union (e.g. for the U.S. under the Privacy Shield Agreement), or observance of officially recognized specific contractual obligations (“standard contractual clauses”).

ESTABLISHING CONTACT

When we are contacted (e.g. through a contact form, email, phone or via social media), the user's data is processed in order to allow us to establish contact and process inquiries in accordance with Article 6, paragraph 1(b) (in the context of contractual/pre-contractual relations), Article 6, paragraph 1(f) (other queries) of GDPR. The user's data can be stored in the customer relationship management system ("CRM system") or in a comparable organizational system.

We delete inquiries once they are no longer needed. We check this need once every two years. Archiving obligations stipulated by law shall furthermore apply.
